

New Seerey-Lester Wilderness Workshop

At Triple "D" Game Farm

February 23-26, 2012

August 24-27, 2012

We have scheduled our FAVORITE location for a Wilderness Workshop – Triple "D" Game Farm! This is the only class where you will be able to photograph and sketch amazing wildlife in a natural environment, from just a few feet away. Each morning you will go into the field and have 2-3 species – your choice of wolves, mountain lion, snow leopards, Siberian tiger, fox, bobcat, bear, otter, lynx just to name a few.

"Stealth" © by John Seerey-Lester

Painted by Seerey-Lester using the Triple "D" bear

In the afternoons, John will teach you how to paint the exciting animals you just saw. He will demonstrate all the techniques you want to learn, how to paint grass, moving water, snow, backgrounds, composition and use of light and of course one of the species at Triple "D". It doesn't get any better than this!! Suzie will cover art sales and marketing, and John will critique your work. Where else can you have so much fun and learn at the same time?

"Edge of Camp" © by John Seerey-Lester

Painted using a Triple "D" mountain lion.

The workshop is four days, and you will have an optional fifth day to photograph additional animals. We start every morning going on location to sketch and photograph in the early morning light. In February we had a wonderful snow falling while we were sketching wolves, snow leopard on a rock outcropping that looks like Tibet, and a Siberian tiger in the snow. Incredible!! In August we had a pack of wolves in a pond setting with reflections, the bear, bobcat and fox. Each season the animals have different coats to suit the time of year and environment.

“Puma Fire” © by John Seerey-Lester
John painted this using the Triple “D” mountain lion

“Out for the Count” © By John Seerey-Lester
This piece was started as a demonstration during the class, using the Triple “D” bear.

“Crossing” © John Seerey-Lester

This piece was stated as a demonstration during the class, using the Triple “D” cross fox.

These are just a few of the paintings that John has created from the animals at Triple “D” Game Farm. John says: “This is probably the best possible experience for a painter of wildlife. Definitely not one to be missed.” Suzie agrees and adds: “I love going to Triple “D”, the animals are amazing and the staff are so great to work with!

This class will be limited in size, so sign up now for the only place you will have astonishing wildlife and art instruction at the same time. The class is only, $1350.00. Please contact Kathleen at Triple “D” to sign up now!

Kathleen
Triple “D” Game Farm
PO Box 5072
Kalispell, MT 59903
(406) 755-9653
info@tripleddgamefarm.com
www.TripleDGameFarm.com

Don't wait, this class fills up quickly, contact Kathleen to hold your place in this wonderful opportunity to see awesome animals and paint at the same time!!